Daide Consorte, Pescara, Italy on board “Adriatech” Class40 – Italian

In 2007, upon accomplishing his first single-handed ocean crossing from Martinique to Horta/Azore Islands on board a 49’ Sun Odyssey named “Bramosia “ meaning “Yearning”, Davide Consorte was welcomed on land by an Italian sportswriter with these exact words: “So, will we be seeing you at the 2010 Route du Rhum-La Banque Postale?” Davide, quite surprised, replied: “Who told you about “the dream” in my dreams? Well, yes, this what I am yearning for...!”

Davide got himself a Pogo 40S in 2008 and disputed several races with her: “RomaperDue”, “LesSables-Horta-LesSables” and the “Solidaire du Chocolat” France-Mexico, all in 2009; “RomaperDue” and the “St.Tropez Rolex Cup” both in 2010, with a lot of miles in between all these races. More than 20 thousand miles non-stop; the Pogo40S “ADRIATECH” was exhausted and is now taking a break in a shipyard in Riva di Traiano-Italy, waiting to undergo some good maintenance.

Around end of July Davide will be sailing “ADRIATECH” to France for the qualification .

For the “Route du Rhum-La Banque Postale”, Davide has taken a big responsibility on himself: his challenge is dedicated to all those who suffer from leukemia,lymphoma,myeloma.

AIL-ITALIAN LEUKEMIA, LYMPHOMA, MYELOMA SOCIETY with headquarters in Rome is on Davide Consorte's main sail. "Raise a sail, help cure cancer": solidarity is the inspiration for this important single-handed race.

A school contest is taking place in several Italian cities organized by AIL, to honor Davide Consorte's participation to the "Route du Rhum-La Banque Postale" and create a reciprocal parallelism, launch an encouraging message to all those who fight a personal battle against cancer: the deal is that Davide must reach Point-à-Pitre, and the children, young boys and girls must be brave and fight every day to reach total remission of their disease. The children will be with Davide during the race spiritually and support him by sending their letters regarding the race, the challenge, their personal thoughts to Davide's sports association CD Sailing-Pescara, Italy.
